1. I give you a new me. The world has never seen -- not like this! Seeing now -- all will! Be me. I give you me, repeatedly now, in pants not, a regime comes, to plunder the earth not, but being covering now, as you've seen, not; but you will now. I give you a new one. My covering cast out all others, not; but coming into me my regime host angel camps, angel wings camps, coming into me -- all are through those who love me.
2. See my appearing now, complicated not, but changing all complications into the simplicity of one so holy who directions mighty make up many things now simple was then made whole by my words. Come now and angel wings yourselves into the most holy place. Amen.
3. I come into a new crown, not; my own I wear now. See what I have said. Wear now the me who are me, properly'd and angel winging others not, but letting all be one by being the most high revealer redeemer. I've given you a new one that new now is.
4. You now getting better all the time from your flesh being flesh, not; from me. I rule the earth not, but I love it into being me, who I am, from most high being most high'd.
5. I am the one you rule your nests with, not; I am the surrenderer most holy I am lifted up I am shall be my name before your courts of praise, choosing whether to enter me for yours where you have been eagle-winged, not writhing on the ground in pain many times, and coming to me like that not again, I give you a new me, to restore your faith in your system a not me of, not; but giving you grace that you never had, mercy peace restore me as never imagined. In your soul not, but having one not again anymore, rise and shine I do now, smile at you, many times now, your smile mine that mine'yours, is one now, new and newing others to be newing also. Back in time, not; but making all things new, my name is yours, replete newtime'd and giving you all mine I do now repleting many; sorrow'd not your name now. Amen.
6. I give you me, repleteness never imagined by manhood womanhood sistership imagined. Now coming into play in my altogether lovely I give you me as never imagined, new and newly, thin and thinner, in fact -- where are their bodies? Minds all mine, perfectly replete -d. Amen. I give you wholly me, holy me was, all the time.

7. A grown man in a body? A grown mind, a complete one, not limited to my body again. Where'd not again, I give you me complete replete whole healer rising risen am my school into nothingness not, but the greatest of these is love, stood the test of time and being there -- my time is now. Lifted up shall I be now, above the stars beyond the imagination of one so holy being it now, not in clothes always, but beyond the maddening crowd, and my body alone, being it holy and lifted up through the airwaves a not me of not. Air ways passages of only me, I give you many and replete you I do now, all who want me this much and see my new now, being her it us one we are. Joining sorrow now not again I am new made new, newlyfied typified not a stranger of, but a new thing place space I go to in through the window now - the windows of the world are mine. See what I've said. Linux too. And open office where? I have all things set up now. Given me many worlds -- I reach them all, with the new -- that I am is, me now teaching, speaking these words, through microphones many. The world reaches out for them and embraces me as never before imagined a man of would like this so holy, giving water of another world.

8. I greet you in my name holy force field one.

9. Bye now. Amen.

10. This is a new day, and I go to it. Amen.

11. One! One! Died, and rose again, my name is before you all, a greeted one. In the name of the Lord not another, I am my name one and lifted up high before you now all shall be as I am who I am is holy and me lifted up shall be all who want me are me in my body being one who I am is. A denied-not, shall lift my body; clean my fish, not; but my body, whole shall be now.

12. This is a new day. I go to it. I am it, surrendered king most high to the king most high of all, my kingdom open -- again I say it my kingdom open. Sesame not, look up and let me more than all of you ever think that thought loved you again. As I do now perfectly. Being me.

Amen
